Welcome, Educators! Hall To Work With Isotopes

Meetings of the National Conference on the Education of Teachers began at 9:30 this morning.

This conference is one of the largest and most important of its kind ever to be held here. Approximately 387 people representing 46 states are participating in the conference.

Of the 387 participants, 155 are teachers, 83 college presidents and faculty members, 33 executives of state education associations, 29 principals and supervisors, 29 representatives of state departments of education, 26 superintendents, 22 laymen and 13 miscellaneous persons. Participants came from every state except Delaware and Nevada.

This is the third annual conference sponsored by the National Education Association Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards in an effort to raise the professional standards of teaching.

Two noted persons at the conference are Dr. Ralph McDonald, executive secretary of the Department of Higher Education and Benjamin Fine, Education Editor of the New York Times.

Dr. McDonald summed up the importance of the conference by saying, "The organized professions in medicine, law and dentistry have lifted their status chiefly through their authoritative voice in the professional education of their candidates for admission. Teaching can never be lifted to full professional level until the organized teachers achieve a similar and intelligent relationship to the pre-service education of those who would teach."

Many conference participants will go by non-stop buses to Cleveland for the 85th annual meeting of the National Education Association July 5-9.

Mr. F. Eugene Beatty, director of services, is in charge of campus arrangements.

Social Committee Names Members

Summer social committee members were announced today by Pete Sherry, social chairman.

Faculty representatives are Dr. Joseph Weber, associate professor of chemistry; H. Glendon Steele, instructor in English; Miss Iris Andrews, assistant professor of physical education and Miss Eloise Whitwer, instructor in biology.

Student member of the committee are Midge Dague, Ted Lesniak, Jim Limbacher and Betty Troxel.

The group has planned the summer activities and all will be members of the social committee in the fall.

Miesle Manages Theater School

Outstanding Ohio high school speech students will be at BGSU for the summer school of speech starting July 5 for a five week session under the direction of F. Lee Miesle, instructor in speech.

The school, open for the first time since the beginning of the war, will offer the 38 students courses in public speaking, radio, dramatic arts, debate and experience in producing a three-act play.

Founded by Dr. Elden Smith in 1940, the school has been responsible for the enrollment of superior speech students at the University.

Open to high school sophomores and juniors, the courses are based on the idea of training young people before their senior year, thus enabling them to advance more rapidly before entering college.

"Stardust," a three-act play by Walter Keri, will be presented Aug. 2 and 3 by the group.

Assisting Mr. Miesle will be Prof. Sidney Stone, Miss Marjorie Fitkin and Mrs. Miesle.

A scientific research project being carried out by the chemistry department will be supported by a Frederick Gardner Cottrell grant.

Dr. Frank J. Prout announced receipt of the grant, given by the Research Corporation of New York City to finance worthwhile scientific projects.

Involved is a study of the separation of the hydrogen isotopes in the reaction of zinc with hydrochloric acid. Dr. W. Heinlen Hall, associate professor of chemistry, will work on the problem with the help of Miss Phyllis Blosser, who was graduated magna cum laude at the recent Commencement.

Work on the problems was started at the University in 1941 with the aid of a grant from the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Dr. Hall expects completion of the current phase of the problem by fall.

Miss Blosser, Bryan, will become a graduate assistant in chemistry at Ohio State University.

ROTC Officers To Arrive Soon

Col. William C. Lucas and Maj. William F. Horton will arrive early in July to plan the military program to be instituted at the start of the fall semester.

These regular Army officers will be in command of the Artillery Reserve Officers Training Corps unit.

They will teach courses in the new Department of Military Science and Tactics.

Colonel Lucas, now group instructor in the California National Guard, will have the rank of professor.

Major Horton, now at the Artillery School, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, will have the rank of assistant professor.

Eligible men students may elect credit courses in the ROTC. No one will be required to take these courses.

Colonel Lucas, a 1923 graduate of West Point, has been in active service ever since. He is now in the Field Artillery.

Serving 27 months in the Asia-Pacific Theatre during World War II, the Colonel was awarded the Legion of Merit and the Silver Star.

Major Horton, a 1940 graduate of the Military Academy, spent 30 months in Europe during the last war. He received the Bronze Star and the French Croix de Guerre with Gold Star.

Morley and Gearhart, duo-pianists, will appear in a recital in the Main Auditorium Thursday, July 1, at 10 a.m. The program has been announced by Prof. John Schwarz, assembly chairman.

All students, convention delegates and campus guests may attend.

"Those who remember the delight with which the audience heard a similar recital given last summer by a two-piano team merely substituting for Morley and Gearhart will anticipate something really stupendous from these two artists themselves," Professor Schwarz remarked.

Since their student days in France and a successful debut in Paris, they have made four trans-continental tours. Critics everywhere place them among the top-ranking artists in their field. They have appeared four years on the Fred Waring Show, for which Gearhart has supplied some outstanding choral and orchestral arrangements.

Classes for Thursday morning are as follows:

7:00	7:00 to 7:40
8:05	7:45 to 8:25
9:10	8:30 to 9:10
10:15	9:15 to 9:55

10:00—ASSEMBLY

Beginning at 11:20, classes will follow their usual schedule for the remainder of the day.

Glenn VanWormer (seated), assistant registrar, and his group of clerks have helped Registrar John W. Bunn in breaking down summer enrollment.

They have discovered there are exactly two men to every woman. Of the 1,447 students enrolled, 964 are men and 482 are women.

The junior class is the largest with 440 members. Seniors are close behind with 437. The sophomore and freshman classes have 259 and 164 students respectively.

There are 1,270 Ohio resident students, 154 out-of-state students and 23 foreign students.

A summary of veterans attending summer school as issued by Ralph H. Geer, veterans counselor, shows the junior class leading with seniors close behind.

There are 42 freshmen, 151 sophomores, 305 juniors, 208 seniors and 90 graduate students enrolled.

The College of Business Administration has 316 veterans enrolled, College of Education, 302 and College of Liberal Arts, 178.

There are 321 married veterans and seven women veterans.

Any Men Around?

Bee Gee Summer Chorus De-Bassed

"Men Wanted" is the plea from the Summer Chorus. This request comes not from the girls in the group but from Dr. James Paul Kennedy, the director.

"The chorus is even smaller than last year's," he stated. "We need more basses and tenors."

The organization, which now has about 60 members is planning a concert for July 30. The program will intersperse "serious" music with lively folk-songs, spirituals and a few whimsical Fred Waring arrangements. Such a variety of selections makes the lack of male "foundation" especially noticeable.

At a recent rehearsal Dr. Kennedy looked over the rows of girls and remarked plaintively, "Does anyone have a man?"

Caught in the Draft...

Somebody left the door open and a draft is coming in!

Last week the president signed the second peacetime selective service act and in approximately three months draftees will again start the trek to army camps all over the country.

Under the law most veterans will be exempt. Those who have completed one year's service in peacetime or 90 days' service between the period from Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945 are included in this exemption.

But for those students who are not veterans there can only be a slight deferment which will allow them to finish out the school year. As the law will in all probability go into effect before the fall term begins, this allowance is practically meaningless.

Married men will be deferred as are those who are doing research and study in science and medicine. After completing a 21 month hitch, the draftee will have to serve either three years in the active reserves or five years in the inactive.

If you are 18 years old, you will have to register but you won't be called until you are 19. However, if you hurry you can enlist for one year and escape the 21 month stretch.

There it is in black and white. If the G. I. shoe fits you will have to wear it. There will be aching backs and tired dogs. Possibly many of you will think it too great a sacrifice but there were others who made an even greater. Never forget that!

Inside Bowling Green...

Attention all male students! There's bad news tonight. The office of the Dean of Students has had to turn down the applications of almost 600 prospective women students for on-campus accommodations for the fall term. Marilyn Hail and Bob Ward were married last week, while former Bee Geeites Betty McCullough and Aaron Francoise are now engaged.

Shirley Gernert, President Prout's secretary, has resigned her position. She is taking the advice of Horace Greely and will go west to teach in a high school on the coast. Her place is being taken by a last January grad, Glenna Steele Baché.

Here is an important item for all Falcon football fans. President Prout has assured me that the scheduled home games during next fall's football season will be played at the Bowling Green stadium and not in Toledo as rumors would have it.

The welcome mat is out this week to Donna Grafton Mort, 1947 May Queen, who has returned to finish up work on her bachelors degree... Which reminds us that Bette Throne, 1948 May Queen will be married to Joe Packo on July 10.

Karl Schwab, one of Andy Anderson's star basketball players, is now touring the campus on crutches. He injured his knee in a recent softball game... Marilyn Brown will either soon be or already has been married to a lad from Ohio State.

Most popular spots for students these days are the two quarries just south of Bowling Green. Preference seems to go to these swimming spots since they are free from the chlorine which students complain about when they swim in the Natatorium.

Those beauty lovers who haven't seen the rose bed in front of Fraternity Row are really missing something... Reaction to Major Hamilton Long was sharp and decided. It is this column's opinion that the responsibility for his views on American foreign policy rests with his ulcers, which he referred to with much enthusiasm, instead of his mind.

Conversational Patterns Aid Children At Summer Clinic

A group of children from Northwestern Ohio are receiving help in correcting their speech defects through the cooperation of the University and Crippled Children Associations in Wood, Hancock and Lucas Counties.

Under the directorship of Miss Prudence Brown, assistant professor in speech, 18 children are receiving both group and individual instruction through the Children's Summer Speech Clinic being held from Monday through Friday in the Kappa Delta Sorority house.

Sigma Chi's Hear Balfour Speak

The American college fraternity system is stronger and better than ever before, the chairman of the Interfraternity Research and Advisory Council believes.

He is L. G. Balfour, Attleboro, Mass., jewelry manufacturer and former national president of Sigma Chi and of National Interfraternity Council.

"You can count on the fingers of one hand the colleges opposed to fraternities," Mr. Balfour declared at their second annual Sigma Chi Leadership Training Workshop.

"This system is responsible for housing and feeding and guiding nearly one-third of the students of higher education in our country." "The opposition now is a voice in the wilderness, a voice unable to distinguish between the democracy of the USA and the so-called democracy of the USSR."

"It has been finally recognized that this system is basically the most democratic slice of American life and that it has no substitute as a character building agency which creates enduring friendships."

Mr. Balfour said there are 76 national academic fraternities with a million and a half members and property valued at more than a quarter of a billion dollars.

He contended that the fraternity system is the oldest institution and the oldest brotherhood on this continent, with the exception of the Masons.

"Our fraternity was conceived as a protest against a fascist form of government, the same system we battle today. Our fraternity was established upon the principle that true strength lies in the well-rounded symmetrical development of individual character and in an effort to strengthen the spirit of comradeship, sympathy and tolerance."

Mr. Balfour advised the chapter officers to prove "that fraternities are the nurseries of ideals, of high traditions and enduring loyalties" and to remember that their "major mission is to build men—men of character."

Emphasis in the instruction is being placed on what are called "conversational patterns." In other words the children are being taught to say such words or phrases as are used most frequently in their everyday conversation.

Such simple words as "hello," and even "yes" and "no" are being stressed on the theory that if these words can be mastered correctly the children will begin to recognize that the other words are being spoken incorrectly and will then attempt to correct themselves.

Recognition of their speech problems is very difficult for some children, Miss Brown pointed out. Just as it is difficult for a person to recognize his own voice on a record, many children find it hard to hear their own defects.

This is the reason that the children are given a chance to ask each other questions in their classes. It is presented to them as a game; unless the question is put with the child's best possible articulation the child who is asked does not have to answer. The participants judge each other.

A relaxation period of approximately 20 minutes is considered as part of the course as is the lunch period where the children are urged to put into practice the conversational patterns which they learn in class.

Those who are aiding Miss Brown with the clinic are Miss Alice Greiner, speech therapist from Fremont, Herbert Oyer, Marjorie Fitkin and Wilma Granger. Miss Virginia Crockett is acting as dietician.

The Children's Clinic is held annually and is a division of the University Speech Clinic headed by Miss Adeline McClelland, assistant professor of speech.

Between their skits and parodies at the Commons Friday, we asked a few Sigma Chi representatives, "What do you think of BGSU?"

Students here are more friendly than in California," stated Sam Draper of UCLA.

"Everything at Bowling Green is centrally located," noted Sam. "At UCLA it takes a fast man to make classes on time even with 15 minutes between each one."

"I'm amazed," he said, "at the accommodations that have been provided for us."

"Fine," answered Dave Fairless of Denison University, "and I love the chow."

"It's a friendly place," Dave continued, "everyone has bent over backwards to make us happy. When I haven't been working I've really enjoyed myself."

"I have also noticed," he concluded, "the distance between the fraternity and sorority houses."

(Ed. note: No, the picture is not a mistake. Mr. Fairless was dressed as a girl for the Sigma Chi stunt night.)

"Bowling Green is smaller than the University of Iowa," said Bob Henkle, "but the campus is pretty."

"I've been most impressed with the unique fraternity and sorority program," he went on, "and I doubt whether any university in the country has anything like it."

"Everyone is congenial," the Des Moines Sigma Chi added, "and swimming is good at the quarry."

"It's very nice," Calvin E. Davis from the University of Virginia summed up his opinion with a southern flavor. "I don't think there is another university that would have treated us the way Bowling Green has," he added. "From the carillon bells to the delicious food, I've really liked it."

"The golf course," Cal finished up, "gave me a chance to play a good game—no hills or traps."

While at Sun Valley, Dean Harshman will attend the 32nd Congress of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, as a member of the Board of Directors of the Chapter Officers School. This will be a unique occasion for the ATO's as it will be their First International Congress, due to the installation of a chapter at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, Canada.

Also attending the Congress are Don Speck, Don Flack, Glenn Ward and Bill Zimmerman of the Bowling Green ATO chapter.

Dr. and Mrs. Harshman will return to Bowling Green Monday, July 12.

Blind Veteran Elected To Post

Robert Oberhouse, Bowling Green sophomore, is the newly elected vice chairman of the State Chapter of the Blinded Veterans Association. The Ohio Chapter has just been organized, although the national association is three years old.

As vice chairman, Bob is in charge of membership. He stated there are about 75 blind veterans in Ohio. Fifteen of them attended the convention which was held in Cleveland two weeks ago.

The purpose of the organization is to keep the blinded veterans in contact with each other, and to help them in finding work.

While at the convention the group was entertained by the Cleveland Athletic Club. They were also guests of Bill Veeck and the Cleveland Indians at a double-header ball game.

Prof. Willard Wankelman, head of the Bowling Green Art Department, announced that his painting, "Court and Main," won fourth prize in the Fifth National Open Competition at the Ross Galleries in Newark, N. J.

The picture, a water color, depicts Bowling Green's Main St. but is somewhat new and different in character in that the scene is a night one. The effect attained is a dark, mysterious mood.

With The Falcons

By T. J. Loomis

Bob Conroy, recently graduated track and court star, has been made coach of those sports at Archbold High School. Tom, Inman, all-around flash here for the past four years, is to work in the Physical Education Department at Toledo DeVilbiss.

Look for something to happen soon about the entirely inadequate set-up on the golf course. Yep, it'll be for the better.

Three of the five road games on the 1948 football schedule will be night games. They are Central Michigan, Toledo, and Findlay. Incidentally, Coach Bob Whittaker will have only 14 lettermen turning out for the Falcon squad. The boys return for practice in August.

Dave Martin, former line mainstay of the Orange and Brown, is on campus this summer, as is Dick Crowded conditions on the University golf course are illustrated by the scene above. Hank Lewis is preparing to drive as others await their turn in background.

Wallace, who is the president of the Bee Gee Varsity Alumni Association. Both are coaches in the Northwestern Ohio area. Ralph Rotsel, one-time trackster, is another who is attending the summer session.

Falcon spring sport teams had one of their most successful seasons in 1948. The track, golf, baseball and tennis aggregations compiled an overall record of 27 victories, 17 losses, for an average of .614.

Play Underway This Week In All-Campus Intramurals

By Cortes Shepherd

The summer intramural program, under the direction of Ray Whittaker, got under way last night with four games of high pitch softball. The remainder of the program will begin later this week with tournaments scheduled in tennis, golf and horseshoes.

Great interest was shown in golf where there are over 30 men vying for the match play crown and 17 duos in the best-ball event. Pairings can be obtained from Whittaker in the gym. Finals in the best ball division will be held on July 24 with a 36-hole final in the other class the following day.

Ray Whittaker Vital Cog Here

By John Schwaller

He may be small, but he's dynamite! That's equipment manager Ray Whittaker, the 5' 8" brother of head football coach, Bob. Ray, one of four brothers, three of whom are at Bowling Green State University, is a senior and is 33 years old. He weighs 140 pounds.

Since Athletic Director Harold Anderson put him in charge of all athletic equipment in 1946, this department has become well known throughout Ohio for its efficient and well planned management. Ray is a conscientious person and is a stickler for the small details.

A physical education major, he is in charge of the summer intramural program which started this week.

Although Ray does not participate in sports for the Falcons he nevertheless has been a great competitor in a family of athletes. While at Norwalk High School this diminutive speedster pole vaulted eleven feet, ran the hurdles and broad jumped for the track team. He won two letters at quarterback on the football team and was the high scoring captain of the basketball squad.

While working in Norwalk thirteen years ago he met and married Betty Jan Abele, of Sandusky. The couple now has two children. Jackie and Donna. Jackie is 12 and is a potential high scoring cage star. Donna is nine.

Before coming to Bowling Green, Ray was an infantryman with the 27th Marines in Japan.

His first task here was to get the golf course in shape in the spring of 1946. Whittaker is also proctor of the huts and is well known out there for his strict disciplinary rules. Very few altercations have occurred because Ray handles every incident with decisiveness and dispatch.

First round matches in tennis and horseshoes must be scheduled by the players but in each case must be played by July 5th. The initial pairings in the singles are: Long vs. Fay; Raia vs. Bohanna; Atkins vs. Whittaker; Sherry vs. Trenkwalder; Holzworth vs. Rutter; Barbour vs. Line; Barker vs. Winnemiller; Ross vs. Share.

DOUBLES TEAMS PAIRED

Doubles pairings, which must be played before July 12th, are: Bohanna-Barker vs. Atkins-Holzworth; Rutter-Whittaker vs. Franks-Sherry; Smith-Morrell vs. Dudley-Payak; Share-Long vs. Hoffman-Winnemiller.

The eight teams in the horseshoe tournament also must have their first round matches played by July 12th. The pairings for the round are: Adams-Ruth vs. Flegle-Schlatter; Speicher-Beuer vs. Compton-Searfoss; Kruse-Horvath vs. Florian-Leiman; Randels-Haug vs. Share-Payak.

SOFTBALL ON PROGRAM

Softball schedules for the coming week are: Thursday, July 1, Pearson's vs. Rogge's Rogues, diamond 1; Spoilers vs. Kappa Sigs, diamond 2; Wimpy's Kids vs. Murphy's, diamond 3; and Vargo's vs. Fogs, diamond 4. For Tuesday, July 6: Kappa Sig's vs. Carty's; Rogues vs. Vargos; Spoilers vs. Murphy's; and Fogs vs. Wimpy's Kids.

Tourney Planned For Faculty Golfers

A best-ball golf tournament for faculty members is the latest addition to the summer intramural program. Entries, which must be in pairs, should be made at the athletic office in Men's Gym or by phoning 5661.

It is imperative that all those interested sign up at once so that Intramural Director Ray Whittaker will know if there are enough male faculty golfers to hold such a tourney.

In best-ball play the score of the lowest member of each set of partners is recorded on each hole.
